Global Mass Transit has launched the Transit Ticketing & Fare Collection in MENA Report in July 2023.

The report will cover the current status of and opportunities in the installation of transit ticketing and fare collection systems in over 50 cities in the MENA region.

The report will comprise three distinct sections.

Part 1 (PPT format) will provide the current status and market size of the AFC segment, market size by sub-segments (contactless smartcards, mobile ticketing, front-end hardware, back-end, service and maintenance); key case studies for deployment of account-based ticketing (ABT), EMV payments in transit and mobile ticketing (apps and wallets); and recent developments.

It will also discuss key upcoming trends, paradigms for future of urban mobility, integration of public transit with micro-mobility, licensed taxis, e-hailing, autonomous taxis, car sharing, etc, changing mobility behaviour, transparency and security, and new technologies.

It will also provide an outlook for the segment and discusses key growth drivers, growth in AFC market by 2028, market opportunities, plans of transit agencies to deploy advanced fare media, plans for integration and interoperability, and outlook for closed-loop payment systems, mobile ticketing, and EMV payments in transit.

Part 2 (PPT format) will provide an in-depth analysis of the industry by fare media deployed, integration and interoperability, and key technology providers. It will cover the current landscape and outlook for fare media options including contactless smartcards, bank cards, mobile ticketing, and others. It will also discuss key policies supporting integration, multi-modal and multi-operator ticketing, regional integrated ticketing systems, nationwide systems and cross-border ticketing.
